Re: LightSquared Subsidiary, LLC

Ex Parte Communication. IB Docket No. 11-109

IBSF File No. SAT-MOD-20101118-11239

Dear Secretary:

My interest in this matter can not be understated. I have invested nearly $40,000 US in the purchase of and the training for high-end instrumentation for Land Surveying GPS technology. This action came in great need during the recession that started in 2008 and I have been able to extend my working career by nearly 5-10 years due to this light weight and accurate GPS receiver. My wife and I had to stay competitive in this poor market; therefore, we had to take an early distribution from our 401k just to stay in our 35 year business. Now, all this seems threatened by some irresponsible action being formed by some without regard to the general public and people like myself. In essence, I see no great need to grant the licensing of LightSquared infrastructure. The overwhelming evidence that shows the intrusion of LightSquared's radio emissions upon our established GPS networks should be enough to simply use common sense in denying their requests. Please, only use independent sources to test the potential harm that would befall our ability to use a very reliable source of positioning devices. We do not want to retrofit and incur whatever costs to buy new receivers that are being portrayed as fix-alls by some whom have selfish interests.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Douglas McLaughlin
